

Laying Foundations for Life-Long Learning!

Ridgewell C of E Primary School Newsletter

24th January 2020

Hello from Mrs Sarti!

A message from our new Executive Headteacher

I just wanted to say a huge thank you for the warm welcome I have received from the children, staff and governors – and from the lovely families I have managed to meet at the gate in the mornings.

Ridgewell School is a small school with a big heart and there are many exciting things happening to keep us moving forward with aspiration and energy. There is a real commitment to supporting our children to thrive and to learn with excitement and curiosity and I am delighted to be part of the team that are making this happen.

We thank you for your continued support in working with us.

Time to Spring Clean

Looking forward to 2020

Everyone has come back to school this term with a spring in their step! We have spent time considering the outdoor spaces around school and have put many plans into place. You may have already noticed the clearing and cleaning that has begun in our EYFS space outside.

We are currently putting together a plan of larger jobs around school some of which we hope to tackle during our Saturday working morning. More details will follow soon about the jobs that we are hoping to complete.

The Day the Crayons Quit

Saturn Class Fiction Writing

The pupils in Saturn Class have had a strong focus on writing this week.

They borrowed the wonderful picture book, “The Day the Crayons Quit,” from Miss Moss in Earth, and they used this as inspiration for extended writing.

The wonderful letters (written by the crayons themselves,) can be found inside the large crayon box attached to the window inside the class!

Extract from Tom’s work: (Written by a green crayon.) ‘I dream about being used for drawing lush green grass in the middle of a summer meadow. I’d adore to be emerald-green pirate treasure...’

New School Council Team

Meet our Spring School Council Group

This term's school council group met for the first time last week. They spent some time going through the children's suggestion box and writing replies ready for assembly.

One suggestion from a child was for the school to recycle crisp packets. We looked into the company who could create collection points, but unfortunately there are already enough in our area.

A parent has very kindly offered to collect our crisp packets from school and will take them to a local collection point for us.

School Council also decided on a brilliant theme for this year's World Book Day in March. They will release further details in the near future! (Just a hint – Bedtime Stories)

School Council will next meet at the start of February, so please keep your suggestions coming!

Looking
