OUTDOOR LEARNING

Learning outside the classroom

This week, the weather has given us a taste of spring with the warm sunshine. It was lovely to see that our children are starting to spend a little longer engaged in activities outside.

The children in Earth class always have the choice to take their learning outside during their 'choosing time'. They have been out nearly everyday this week! I have been especially impressed with the construction group. They always surprise me with the original 'vehicles' they build and the 'places' they visit during this time.

It was also lovely to spend Thursday morning up in our Forest School area with KS1. It was a warm, sunny morning and the children hardly needed the fire to keep warm. They spent most of the morning exploring, building dens and sawing wood. We are looking forward to another KS1 Forest School morning next week as well as a day in Park Wood with Saturn Class.

Keeping Hydrated

The children are always encouraged to drink water throughout the day at school. Staff have noticed that some children are bringing fruit juices in water bottles. Please be mindful about the high sugar content in many of these drinks and remember that as a Healthy School, we recommend that water is drunk during the day.

EARTH CLASS STAGE

New Addition to EYFS space

This week the children in Little Stars and Earth Class have been enjoying the addition of a theatrical stage in their outdoor area.

The children have been making much use of this, with strong singing and musical instruments being heard coming from this space.

We are looking forward to seeing what plays might be acted out by the children over the coming weeks...

Plants

The parts of a plant

The children in Jupiter have been studying about the different parts of a flowering plant and learning about the functions of these parts through their science topic.

Last week, they were seen dissecting flowers and really looking in detail at what they could see. They also created impressive collages which clearly show the labeled parts of the flower.

This colourful work has been displayed in their classroom.

The link to the login page for Times Tables Rock Stars has now been added to the class pages on our school website.

We hope your children enjoy working through the stages.
